

Membership Application

The German Association of Social and Cultural Anthropology (GASCA) is the professional association and the German-speaking scientific forum of Social and Cultural Anthropology. GASCA members can currently engage in 35 thematic working groups and regional groups, which are dedicated to specific social and cultural anthropological topics.

All members receive regular GASCA-newsletters in pdf format. Membership includes the right to stand for election at the biennial GASCA conferences, the right to vote at the general meeting and in the working groups as well as reduced participation fees.

A subscription to the "Zeitschrift für Ethnologie" is also included in the membership fee. In addition, members receive exclusive access to various online resources. Further information in German language can be found on our homepage <https://www.dgska.de/>.

I apply to be admitted to the Deutsche Gesellschaft für Sozial- und Kulturanthropologie e.V. (German Association of Social and Cultural Anthropology) as:
 (please tick)

☐ Full member with a position over 65%: € 135 p.a. if direct debit authorisation is provided to GASCA or € 140 for other forms of payment

☐ with a position of up to 65%: € 90 p.a. if direct debit authorisation is provided to GASCA or € 95 other forms of payment

☐ Temporarily Unwaged: € 40 p.a. if direct debit authorisation is provided to GASCA or € 45 for other forms of payment

☐ Students of Ethnology/Social and Cultural Anthropology (with student ID): € 40 p.a. if direct debit authorisation is provided to GASCA or € 45 for other forms of payment. After four years, the student status changes to member with a position of up to 65% if the GASCA office does not receive proof of an ongoing enrolment for study. The student rate does not automatically apply to doctoral students. Please contact the GASCA office for further information

☐ Sponsoring Member

☐ Currently € 200 p.a. if direct debit authorisation is provided to GASCA or € 205 for other forms of payment

Endorsement of the application by two full members (not student members):

a) Endorsed by: _____ Signature: _____

b) Endorsed by: _____ Signature: _____

NOTE: In accordance with A §5 of the statutes, full members must identify themselves as ethnologists / social and cultural anthropologists. They need to be endorsed by two full, non-student members or honorary members. The chairperson approves new members, subject to them being later confirmed at the general meeting. Until their confirmation at the general meeting, new members have all rights and duties except the right to vote in the general meeting, which is granted after the membership is confirmed.

Students using a current study enrolment as ID can receive the same conditions as full members after their 4th semester. The passive right to vote is waived, but they can elect a student working group representative as delegate on the advisory board.

Supporting members can be people, corporations, associations and institutions under public and private law. They do not need an endorsement. The Executive Board decides their admission. For details see §§5-8 of the statutes.

DATA PROTECTION:Use of your personal data

Your personal data will be processed for the following purposes as required to ensure the legitimate interests of the GASCA (Art. 6 para. 1 lit. f, GDPR):

- member administration and accounting (e.g. collection of membership fees or control of payments, forwarding of donation receipts);
- general activities of the association (invitations to general meetings and biennial conferences);
- distribution of the Zeitschrift für Ethnologie

In addition, there are various legal obligations (Art. 6 Para. 1 lit. c, GDPR) which may make the processing of your personal data necessary, e.g. tax regulations.

Recipient of your personal data

Within the association, access to your personal data is restricted exclusively to the branch office management and in some cases to the chairperson of the board and the working group/regional group coordinator (contact data only).

The office will send your name and postal address to Reimer-Verlag for the distribution of the Zeitschrift für Ethnologie.

For the purpose of checking GASCA memberships to enable members to receive discounts, we share data as required with the conference office of the institute with whom the GASCA board works to organise the biannual conference.

Your rights

Legally you have the following rights, which are to be checked in a case-by-case basis:

- The right to receive information about your personal data (Right to Information, Art. 15 GDPR),
- The right to request the rectification (Art. 16 GDPR) or deletion ('right to be forgotten', Art. 17 GDPR) of your personal data or the restriction of processing (Art. 18 GDPR),
- The right to receive your personal data in a structured, standard and machine-readable format (Right to data portability, Art. 20 GDPR),
- The right to revoke your consent at any time (Art. 7 GDPR), whereby the revocation does not affect the legality of the processing prior to revocation,
- The right to object to any processing of your personal data as described under "Use of your personal data" (Art. 21 GDPR),
- The right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority (Art. 77 GDPR).

Confidentiality and data storage

The branch management, the chairperson of the board and the working group/regional group coordinator, who have access to and/or process personal data, are obliged to treat this data confidentially in compliance with the applicable legal regulations. The data will be kept for the prescribed period of time as is required by the respective country.

In signing this document, you confirm that your data is correct and agree to the processing of your personal data as described above.
